Subject to change if circumstances dictate
Personal Statement

- Changed in 2021
  - In order to increase diversity within the profession and to obtain a more holistic review of applicants, the former one-page personal statement has been replaced.
  - 500-word autobiographical sketch.
  - The application will contain a list of several short essay questions, and applicants will be asked to choose two of them to answer. (250 words each)
    - The questions will remain unchanged from last year
    - Can be customized for program
Research Section

• Some stylistic revisions to more easily distinguish published articles and national presentations from other types of research
USMLE Step 2

- Applicants are required to submit USMLE Step 2 scores if taken
Altus Suite - Pilot

• Multi-level assessment of ophthalmology residency applicants o Professionalism
  o Social intelligence
  o Value alignment

  o Will not be utilized by the SF Match this year

Ophthalmology Electives

Home Institution Electives

Away Electives

• Not required to successfully match in ophthalmology
• M4 elective at a location other than your home institution
• An opportunity to broaden your experience and exposure to ophthalmology.
• Coordinated by the AAMC VSLO (Visiting student learning opportunities) via application process
Away Elective Timeline

- Winter M3: Investigate Options
- Spring M3: Submit application
- Summer/Fall M4: Attend Elective
Why Do an Away Elective?

Pro

• Exposure to a new ophthalmology learning environment

• Opportunity to work with a mentor

• Concentrated exposure to a particular topic of interest in ophthalmology

• Increased chance of being offered a residency interview

Con

• Financial cost

• Opportunity cost

• Schools have different academic calendars

• You may not get your first choice of program(s)
Determining Where to Do an Away Elective

- Consult with your mentor(s)
- Seek advice from older students and residents
- Consider desired geographic locations
- Consider locations where you will have social support
- Consider programs with clinical strength in your area of interest
- Consult Texas Star or Doximity for program information
How to Ace the Application Process

• Study and understand the VSLO application process
• Visit individual program websites for additional information
• Start your investigation early
• Stay organized – consider creating a spreadsheet
• Know which immunizations are required
• Arrange a social support system if possible - housing, transportation and daily living.
Put your Best Foot Forward on Away Electives

• Know as much as you can about the program
• Read about the faculty that you will work with
• Review the syllabus and know what will be expected of you • Have a support system in place for housing and transportation
• Make sure that your clinical ophthalmology skills are polished
• Practice your presentation skills
• Review your fund of knowledge
• Be pleasant to everyone that you interact with Long-term Benefits

• Let faculty and residents know of your interest in the away residency program

• Send thank you notes/ follow-up email letting key faculty know that you appreciated the opportunity

• Stay connected via research projects or other opportunities. This is an opportunity to enhance your professional network and identify potential mentors.
Take Aways

• Consider doing an away elective early
• Study the VSLO process – know it well
• Be clear about your goals and objectives
• Optimize your application
• Be prepared to do an outstanding job during your away elective

Identifying Mentors for LORs: What’s a Good Letter?

Janice C. Law, MD
Vanderbilt Eye Institute
Vice Chair for Education
Director of Medical Student Education
What’s in a recommendation letter?

- The context the letter writer knows you
- Review of achievements
- Specific and personal examples
  - of your performance
  - aspects that set you apart
- What qualities you will bring to the residency
- Explain any hardships or challenges

Dear Resident Review Committee,
Identifying a mentor for letters

Ask yourself…

- Who has seen and interacted with me in these domains:
  - Clinical reasoning
  - Patient care team
  - Research (Analytical skills and writing)

- Who has witnessed my:
  - Leadership or service
  - Communication skills
  - Professionalism/Integrity

- Who can speak to my strengths?
  - What are they? List them.

Note – only one letter needs to come from an ophthalmologist
The ASK

- Initiate in person or email, but always follow up with email
  - Let people know your intentions early (i.e. after a rotation or before a rotation)
- Be sure adequate time is given to write (4-6 weeks)
- Set up a one-on-one meeting
  - Discuss key attributes you want to highlight
  - Discuss concerns you have about your application
- Before the meeting, email these:
  - Updated professional CV
  - Personal statement or autobiography
  - Ask if you need to prepare anything else
  - Photograph (optional)
- After the meeting:
  - Follow up with thank you email
  - Include deadline reminder, submission details (i.e. Match ID) & short summary of meeting
  - Ask if it would help to send a reminder email when deadline is closer Unique situations

• What if mentors say no?
• What if they ask you to draft your own letter?
• What if you mainly worked with residents/fellows?
• How do you address the following in your letter?
  o Reapplying
  o Probation
  o Remediation
  o Hardships
Opportunities to enhance or deepen interactions

- Virtual mentoring
- Research or case reports
- New initiatives
- Invitations and outreach
- Shadowing
- QI projects
Mentee expectations

- Commitment: To fully participate in the mentoring relationship
- Responsibility: To accept responsibility for his/her career development
- Honesty/Authenticity: To communicate honestly with the mentor and communicate often
- Proactive: To take initiative in seeking help and feedback from the mentor
- Receptive: Willingness to listen, learn, and change
- Follow through: To implement feedback and complete tasks
Thank You and Good Luck!

Is Ophthalmology the Right Career for Me?

• Gauging interest
  o Local shadowing opportunities
  o Virtual opportunities: Grand Rounds, Lectures, Conferences

• Identify an Ophthalmology Mentor

• Local Ophthalmology Interest Group

• Mentorship Programs
  o AAO Minority Ophthalmology Mentoring Program
  o Rabb Venable Program
  o Women in Ophthalmology

How do I stack up against the crowd?

Factors to Consider:
- Class Rank
- Research Accomplishments
- Unique Interests/Talents
- Adversity Overcome
- Supportive Mentor(s)
- Leadership/Service
- USMLE Step 2 CK Score
  - Most will only have P/F USMLE Step 1 Score
How Does One Improve Their Odds?

• No "one size fits all" answer
• Can’t undo certain metrics
• But you can …
  o Try to do well on USMLE Step 2 CK
  o Demonstrate dedication to/passion for the field through research, service, and leadership Speaking of USMLE Step 2 CK…

• How important is it?
• When should one take it?
• How long to prepare for it?
• What if score comes in after application submission?
What Options Can I Consider if I Don’t Measure Up?

• Are you “Ophthalmology or bust”
  ○ Consider a research year
    ▪ Not a guarantee to secure a match the following year

• Are you happy in any clinical setting?
  ○ Consider double applying (increasing trend)
  ○ Has pros and cons
  ○ Will take some discretion and strategizing with your advising dean
Taking a Year Off for Research/Other Degree

• Important factors:
  ○ Identify a supportive mentor with a track record of success ○ Identify a research topic that stimulates you

• Consider applying for a research fellowship
  ○ NIH Medical Research Scholars Program
  ○ RPB Medical Student Research Fellowship
  ○ Home institution student research programs
Working on the MSPE/Deans Letter

• Work closely with your advising dean on 3 noteworthy characteristics
• Review your clerkship narratives for accuracy It’s Time to Apply! Where Do I Apply?

• Tips to applying SMART:
  o IGNORE THE RANKINGS!! This is about YOU!
  o Reflect on YOUR learning style and career goals ▪ Do you prefer an independent vs closely supervised environment?
    ▪ Is research a big component of your future career?
    ▪ Could you be fellowship bound vs comprehensive ophthalmology?
    ▪ Are there “life” mentors and “career” mentors you identify with at the program?
  o How important is proximity to your family/social support system?
  o Talk to your ophthalmology mentor to identify programs aligning with above Thank you!

Developing (Telling) Your Story/Personal Statement

Nicholas J. Volpe, MD
Professor and Chair
Department of Ophthalmology
Northwestern University
Feinberg School of Medicine

Acknowledgement to Drs Carter and Gandhi
YOUR Story: 20–30 years in the Making

- Don’t minimize the whole story by over playing the “checking the box” things you did when you decided to apply to ophthalmology
- Authenticity is critical
- Prior to filling out your application, it is important to reflect on your experiences
- How have you gotten to where you are now?
- Your unique path
- What have you overcome?
- What drives you?
- What experiences will demonstrate the person you are now and the resident and physician you will be?
  - Life events, experiences in school, research, clinical care, community service, advocacy etc.
- Your dreams and aspirations, role models Considerations

• If there is a noticeable gap or concern in your application this could be addressed in the autobiographical statement or short answer section.
  - Examples: time off for medical or academic reasons, academic probation
  - This is a personal decision.
  - Discuss this with a trusted advisor

• Remember this is a sophisticated audience looking for likeminded applicants

• Talk to residents and mentors about what they love and why they chose
  - Do you agree and can you capture that vision and energy?
Personal Statement

• Autobiographical Statement:
  o A chance to share your journey to ophthalmology and what distinguishes you as an applicant o 500 words

• Short Answer Questions:
  o Applicants will choose two short answer questions (250 words each)
Personal Statement

• If you’re inspired now and want to get started…
  o Work on an outline of your proudest accomplishments ▪ Look over your CV for experiences to highlight ▪ Reflect on the personal qualities you want to share with the committee ▪ Character and uniqueness
    ▪ Tell your story-specific and most recent better than generic and old ▪ Have a theme better than chronological rehash ▪ More current issues and future aspirations less history/steps ▪ Series of crucibles—events that shaped your story and decisions o Work through drafts and revisions o Solicit opinions
    ▪ Ask mentors, family and friends to review o Don’t misspell O-p-h-t-h-a-l-m-o-l-o-g-y o These steps will help you gather your thoughts for your interview Personal Statement: Short answer questions

Last Year’s Questions (Choose 2; 250 words each):

○ What does resilience mean to you? Describe a situation in your personal or professional life where you have demonstrated resilience.

○ If you were to start an ophthalmology residency program, what would be the three core values you would base it on?

○ Describe a way in which you will add diversity to your residency class. This may relate to your background, upbringing, life experiences, professional/personal interest, or educational path.

○ Describe an important mentor and relate how that person has been helpful to you.
Personal Statement: Do’s

• Customization

• Applicants may create and save multiple personal statements and assign specific statements to specific programs ▪ Can be a way for you to “signal” your interest to certain programs

✓ Do use this as a chance to tell your story o Prior careers
  o Impactful experiences especially service, research, international o Gaps in your training o some idea of your plan o Weak spots in your application (carefully)

✓ Do have a second set of eyes on your work
Personal Statement: Do’s

• Careful with personal ophthalmology stories (grandpa’s cataract)
• Don’t be redundant, overconfident or lacking purpose, don’t plagiarize!
• Don’t explain why ophthalmology is interesting in general
• Avoid empty statements – “I am a hard worker that likes taking care of people”
• Don’t over-customize or spend time on a negative-think first impression
• Don’t use cliché phrases that are likely overused- “The eyes are the window to the soul”
• Be careful about nontraditional statements (poems, songs etc.)
• Remember this may be the only things some of your interviewers look at Definitely Not!!

Certainly! Here's a concise personal statement for an ophthalmology residency application:

As a dedicated and compassionate individual, I am thrilled to apply for a residency position in ophthalmology. My journey into medicine has been shaped by a profound fascination with the intricate complexities of the human eye and a genuine desire to improve patients' quality of life through vision care.

During my undergraduate studies in biology, I developed a solid foundation in the sciences and cultivated a deep curiosity for the field of ophthalmology. This drove me to pursue clinical experiences, shadowing esteemed ophthalmologists, and witnessing the transformative impact they had on patients' lives. These encounters solidified my passion for ophthalmology and ignited my determination to become an accomplished ophthalmologist myself.

Factors to consider..

• Program and institutional culture
• Program size
• Geographic location
• Number and quality of core faculty
• Exposure to various subspecialties
• Surgical experience (Volume/breadth)
• Clinical sites (VA, County)
• Facilities including microsurgical training center
• Call experience

• Integrated/joint program
• Didactic curriculum
• Program accreditation status
• Fellowship match rates
• Board pass rate
• Research opportunities
• Mentorship quality
• Current resident satisfaction/wellness
• Parental leave policies
• Program mission
Among active U.S. allopathic senior medical students ranking residency programs across all specialties, these were the top five considerations.

- Desired geographic location—cited by 88%.
- Perceived goodness of fit—87%.
- Reputation of program—82%.
- Work-life balance—74%.
- Quality of residents in the program—73%.
